The Lawrence Arm's bassist, Brendan Kelly, has announced he is developing a new solo album. He recently stated on his Twitter account he has finished 4 new songs

"4 songs TOTALLY done. Add that to the 4 that are already done and we're 2/3 of the way there. sorry, folks with expectations. gettin weird."

He also stated that it may be released on November 8th.

"november 8 is the projected, but we'll have to see how fast the nerds who turn the knobs work. Gotta go sing...."
